101 ESPN ANNOUNCES CHANGES TO THEIR DAILY SHOW HOSTS, PROGRAMMING LINE-UP

ST. LOUIS – 101 ESPN – the #1 source for Sports Radio in St. Louis – made several changes to its programming line-up today, including the move to add Chris Duncan to the PM Drive Show “The Fast Lane”, St. Louis’ most listened to talk-radio program.

With this move, Bob Ramsey will now co-host the newly-christened “Stully & Rammer” Show, weekdays from 6:00-8:00 pm with Brian Stull. “Stully & Rammer” will also serve as 101 ESPN’s baseball pre-game show during the 2012 Cardinals season.

A former St. Louis Cardinals baseball star and a member of the 2006 World Champion team, Chris Duncan has been a regular evening co-host on 101 ESPN since September of last year. He has provided expert baseball commentary and analysis for the 101 ESPN daily shows since officially joining the St. Louis sports talk radio station in March of 2011.

Bob Ramsey – the “Voice of the Billikens” for the past 25 years – will continue as one of the Billikens play-by-play announcer and analyst for Saint Louis University’s men’s basketball, along with St. Louis American sports editor Earl Austin Jr.

Regarding 101 ESPN’s show and host changes, Program Director Kent Sterling comments, “We are excited to put Chris Duncan on ‘The Fast Lane’. He is a unique communicator with an incredible work ethic, and a great guy. He has lived a life in the eye of the sports hurricane, and he speaks with an authority that is captivating.” He adds, “Media is all about finding great communicators, and Chris is one of the most gifted in America.”

Sterling continues, “It’s also great that Bob Ramsey helps us extend front line talent into the night with ‘Stully & Rammer’. Bob is the emotional heartbeat of St. Louis sports fans, and this gives listeners to 101 ESPN and 101sports.com a schedule of performers that will serve them exceptionally well throughout the day into the night.”
